

INSTITUTIONAL INVESTING

Improved Options for Colorado Public Entities

Today's market conditions likely have your head spinning as you look for safe investment options. And with strict laws governing what you can and cannot do, you may think the only option is to keep your entities' money invested in local government investment pools. However, safety demands diversification.

Because public entities are held to state statutes, not all investment options are viable to you. However, Gill Capital Partners (GCP) has explored three viable investment options:

- FDIC-Insured Certificates of Deposits

With FDIC-Insured CDs, your deposits are protected against loss if an FDIC-insured bank fails. GCP has negotiated rates and has banks ready to collateralize.

- CDARS

Approved by Colorado statutes, you can access up to $50 million in FDIC protection. Your investments will originate at a Colorado bank and be spread over multiple banks around the country, eliminating the need to collateralize deposits.

- AAA Government-Rated Agency Bonds

Awarded the highest rating for their dependability, these bonds are stable, even in unstable market conditions.

GCP has more than 20 years of experience and is well-versed in Colorado law so you don't have to be. And we have relationships that allow us to shop around and get better rates than your local bank.

Gill Capital Partners

Knowledge. Experience. Flexibility. Focus. Relationship and service. These are the foundations of the GCP approach. For the last 25 years, local municipalities have chosen GCP because they are a Colorado firm focusing on Colorado clients. GCP works closely with clients to find needs-based solutions, instead of pushing a single management approach.
